— THE PEOPLE —

Rob has been making wine for more than forty vintages. His first love was Champagne, but man cannot live on sparkling alone, so there's also Pinot Noir, Pinot Gris, Rosé, and even "Port" - each engaging his imagination in their own way. However, the intrigue of Pinot Noir never ceases to captivate him. Given the range of vineyards he works with, he has an almost endless variety of flavors and textures with which to create.

Maria Stuart, 1964-2021, first fell in love with the joys of wine while working in restaurants in Chicago. It wasn't long before she discovered Oregon Pinot Noir and the rest, as they say, is history. Having served as the executive director of the International Pinot Noir Celebration and on several local non-profit boards, her greatest joy was building community. She fiercely believed that gathering people together and cooking them good food just might change the world.

Our team is fondly called "The R. Stu Crew." We are immeasurably grateful to have a group who loves to both work and play together. You'll often find The Crew enjoying a meal and bottle of wine together - true to the legacy of Maria and spirit of R. Stuart & Co. Winery.

— THE WINES —

We make wines for life. Whether it's Tuesday night take out, a Saturday night dinner party, your beloved's birthday, or a Sunday afternoon curled up with a book, we have a wine for you. Every R. Stuart wine tastes of its place. They are true to the nature of their vineyard's terroir and the fruit it yields. With Rob's signature gentle tannins, perfect balance of acid and fruit, and utilizing French neutral oak barrels, our wines always work beautifully with food.

— THE VINEYARDS —

At R. Stuart, we buy fruit from a dozen different vineyards around the incredible Willamette Valley, some of which Rob has been working with for more than 30 years. In 2018, we proudly purchased our first estate vineyard, Daffodil Hill, located in the esteemed Eola-Amity Hills AVA. We work only with growers who share our value of high quality, sustainable farming with the goal of taking care of the earth, the fruit, and the people who tend it. Rob walks the vineyards often throughout each season. When it's time to harvest, the grapes are brought to our winery where Rob and the cellar team expertly craft them into the wines we love.
